

WELCOME

Welcome to the 40th edition of the VC FILM FEST (also known as the Los Angeles Asian Pacific Film Festival). As the Festival continues its Renewal practices, we dedicate this Festival to Steve Tatsukawa (1949-1984), founding Executive Director and beloved community activist. We remember his impact, his humor, and positive influence he had on those around him. Through stories and shared memories, we ensure that his legacy resonates with future generations.

VC Film Fest honors our beloved elder cultural workers, linking them to present and emerging artists who continue to empower our communities and challenge perspectives.

Grounded in our VC Presents programs reflecting the Visual Communications' living values in our Archives, we celebrate VC Founders Duane Kubo & Eddie Wong, the community behind STAND UP FOR JUSTICE: THE RALPH LAZO STORY, and other stories that transcend time, space, and emotions. From the world premiere of NOBUKO MIYAMOTO: A SONG IN MOVEMENT to this year's Armed With a Camera vol. 2024 and Vision to Reel, we present generations of storytellers. Imagining our futures through a rising generation of cultural bearers, we share this year's Pacific Cinewaves and Indigenous NOW. And in our growing practice of creating convergences with other BIPOC organizations who share our regenerative values, we present Our Storytelling Power, a shorts program from our Color Congress partners who embrace community participatory media in the same spirit as Digital Histories.

The Democracy Series looks into our global political experiences in the midst of another major election year in the United States. It is our hope to create dialogue, empathy, and understanding in a time when democracy and humanity is in peril.

Our gratitude to all of you who continue to believe in what we make happen, inspiring us to embrace the power of storytelling to create just futures.

Welcome to your VC Film Fest.

With gratitude,
Visual Communications

ABOUT OUR ART

The 40th Anniversary poster artwork aims to highlight and celebrate the VC Archives through an homage to Steve Tatsukawa, a foundational figure at Visual Communications, highlighting his impactful contributions as VC's founding Executive Director and beloved community activist. 2024 marks the 40th Anniversary of Steve's passing.

At the artwork's core is a portrait of Steve, holding a camera inspired by an old photograph of his, aptly capturing the essence of the festival. Life imitates art, and art imitates life. The filmmaker records the audience who looks back at the filmmaker, creating a fascinating loop of observation. It's a reminder that every frame we capture—whether on film or in memory—holds layers of meaning and emotion. The filmmaker's eye becomes a portal in this image, bridging the gap between the mundane and the extraordinary. Surrounding Steve are symbolic elements representing various festival pillars: archives, film reels, community, theater, audience, and artists. This portrayal reflects the festival's immersive and celebratory nature, engaging and honoring its audiences through diverse offerings over the past 4 decades.

We've chosen an organic, textured style to mirror print media's tactile essence and expanded upon the idea of autonomy over distribution reminiscent of small press practices. Employing a duotone approach for Steve's portrait and an outline brush stroke style for surrounding illustrations, the artwork is divided into four segments - referencing the 4 decades of the festival, unifying the composition with colored shapes. A warm, muted color palette with vibrant accents imbues the piece with a soothing yet optimistic quality. The typography's aesthetic aligns with the organic, hand-drawn style of the line-work present in the illustration. By blending this organic font with a cleaner, geometric typeface, we achieve a cohesive editorial layout that balances tight focus with the roughness of the strokes. This combination creates a harmonious visual contrast, enhancing the overall presentation with a clean, sharp design - blending elements of the past with the present.

Subtle animation breathes life into the artwork, with smaller illustrations surrounding Steve featuring gentle, frame-by-frame animation loops. Additionally, Steve's portrait animates, with his hand moving to interact with the camera, adding a dynamic touch to the artwork.

ABOUT THE ARTISTS

Supernova Design is a WOC-owned and operated studio based in Los Angeles that helps innovative brands and businesses tell their unique stories in playful and creative ways. Creative Director Asavari Kumar and her team worked to create the 40th-anniversary artwork for VC Media. The team collaborated under the art direction of Shaivalini Kumar and production by Sidharth Zutshi, with animation work by Katherine Dallimore and Lissette Diaz.

As POC artists, Supernova focuses on partnering with organizations and causes that share their core beliefs. They are particularly drawn to projects that focus on community and social responsibility.

ABOUT VISUAL COMMUNICATIONS

Founded in 1970 with the understanding that media and the arts are powerful forms of storytelling, Visual Communications creates cross-cultural connections between peoples and generations. Our mission is to develop and support the voices of Asian American & Pacific Islander filmmakers and media artists who empower communities and challenge perspectives. Created by a group of artists and filmmakers to organize and empower communities through media, Visual Communications is the first media arts organization in the nation dedicated to the honest and accurate portrayals of the Asian American & Pacific Islander peoples and communities.

We are home to the VC Archives, one of the largest photographic and moving image collections on Asian Pacific experiences in America.

Visual Communications' programs include: the annual VC Film Fest and year-round screenings and exhibitions, the Armed With a Camera Fellowship for Emerging Media Artists, and the Digital Histories media production and storytelling program for older adults.
